Program:

- Clackamas County Transit Development Plan
Karen Buehrig, Long Range Planning Manager

Karen presented information about the County's work to identify transit connections without service to realize a coordinated vision for transit service and actions to improve transit use. They did not identify new connections between Oak Grove and Lake Oswego. They're looking at more frequent service between Oregon City and Lake Oswego. The study was born out of HB2017, which is a tax on employees for transit funding purposes. For more information, visit

- Segregated by Design: Video and Community Discussion

Valerie Chapman, Vice Chair, OGCC

Valerie presented a video entitled "Segregated by Design" based on the book "The Color of Law" by Richard Rothstein, a historian and academic focusing on the history of segregation in America. He is a professor at U.C. Berkeley. The video and discussion were part of an ongoing community conversation about diversity.
